Letus Enter Entertains at the Strand.

The Lotus Enter, an Associated First National attraction, starring that peer of American actors, John Barrymore, and personally directed by Marshall Nellan-nan been meeting with unusual successat the Strand theatre where it began a of the big names attached to the produc lowing that his name on a film alone guarantees its success, and the same can be said of Director Nellan. But the fact that the story is the work of Albert Payson Terhone and that the titles were written by George Ade, both famous !

In addition, the story to one of the most dramatic and original ever produced. Barrymore plays the part of Jacques Lenoi, who does not see a scoman until he is twenty-five years of age, due to his father's wishes. During those years he travels the seven seas. Sever setting eyes on a woman, until his twenty-fifth birthday. He lands is New York that day, and then begin a series of adventures which are highly entertaining. One of the most thrilling of the acens shown is a dirigible flight over the Pa-dific ocean, during which Harrymore lives from the basket of the blimp into ory is enlivened with scenes taken on a desert island, where a colony line transformed the garden spot into a puradise where all live happily.

A very funny Mack Sennett comedy called Gymnasium Jim and a Selenich News make up the remainder of this pro-
